本专题内容切合 2022 年版新课标主题内容“人与社会”范畴“之文学、艺术与体育”主题群中“日常体育活动，重大体育赛事，体育精神”这一子主题内容。

一、阅读理解

A

① “When side by side two rabbits go, who can tell the buck (雄兔) from the doe (雌兔)?” China’s Yang Jingru and Li Jinzi “played the buck and the doe” in the women’s 1,500m short track speed skating (短道速滑) event of the Winter Youth Olympic Games on Jan 20th, 2024.

② They used the classic “rabbit strategy (策略)”. The key of the “rabbit strategy” is teamwork of two skaters. One skater runs very fast from the start, while the other stays behind. This is different from the usual 1,500m speed skating strategy of keeping the same speed and then speeding up in the last few turns.

③ Using the “rabbit strategy”, after the first turn, Yang suddenly skated at full speed. She ran one turn faster than the other skaters and stayed at the back of the group, but nobody noticed it.

⑤ The two Chinese short track speed players cleverly use the “rabbit strategy”. They won both gold and silver medals, making it a classic case at the Winter Youth Olympics.
