NEW word in 2020

Coronavirus is this year's Children's Word of the Year. This is very interesting given that the 500 Words competition closed on 27 February 2020, the day before the first case was documented in the UK. This shows the influence of important events around the world on children's creativity.

Highlights

- The word coronavirus appeared for the first time in the 500 Words stories in 2020. It is not a word that has been used before.
- The word has been used 459 times in the stories in 2020, with 287 of them as coronavirus, 168 as corona virus, and 4 as corona - virus.
- It is amazing that many of the themes young writers explored in fiction soon became a reality with the world in lockdown.

Examples

The nurses came running over. I felt a pain in my neck, I started to gasp for air. My body started shaking I couldn't control myself. My eyes rolled to the back of my head, a mask covered my mouth, my temperature raised and I have the coronavirus.

18. (6分) "Look at Amy's picture!" Mom said, too loud. She does that when she's excite, because she can't hear herself. Some kids turned to stare at us and I wanted to hide.

I led my family into my classroom and looked around. Other kids and parents were there, but I didn't see Evelyn.

Ms. Jennings walked over to us. I introduced her to my family and explained that my parents are deaf.

"Oh, " she said. "Well, how do you say 'Welcome!' in sign language? "

"Like this. " I swept my open right hand in toward my body, palm (掌心) up.

She repeated the movement.

"Thank you, " Mom said, smiling. "It's nice to meet you. "

Ms. Jennings looked surprised. "You speak very well, " she said.

In sign language, I repeated what Ms. Jennings had said in case my parents hadn't read her lips (嘴唇).

Mom nodded. "I lost my hearing as a child, after I'd learned to talk. Amy's father was born deaf. He can talk, too, but he's shy about his voice. "

Dad smiled in agreement.

Some of my classmates were watching us and whispering. Then I noticed Evelyn and her mom standing by the door.

"I sit over there, " I told my family and quickly walked toward my desk.

"Hi, Amy, " Evelyn said suddenly.

I turned around. "Hi. "

"I didn't know your parents are deaf, " she said.

"Yeah. " I couldn't think of anything else to say.

"And you can talk to them with your hands? That's so cool. "

"You think so? " I asked. I exhaled with relief.

Evelyn nodded. "It's like a secret code. Would you teach me some words sometime? "

I smiled. "Of course. "

"One of my dad's neighbours uses sign neighbours, " she said. "Maybe I can surprise her with a greeting next time I visit my dad. "

"Your dad doesn't live with you? " I said.

She shook her head. "My parents are separated. "

"Oh, I... " I'd been so worried about my family that I hadn't thought about

Evelyn's family. "Hey, if you come over tomorrow, we can practice some sign language then. "

I got my parents' attention. "Mom, Dad, " I said, signing, "I'd like you to meet my friend Evelyn and her mom. "

19. (8分) Last month, the artist Christo opened his new art sculpture. It is made up of 7, 506 colorful barrels (桶) floating on a lake in Hyde Park in London. Christo calls it The London Mastaba. It is his first major outdoor art sculpture in Great Britain . The artwork is in the shape of a mastaba . It looks somewhat like a pyramid with a fat top . The London Mastaba is about 65 feet high, 98 feet wide and 130 feet long, and it weighs about 1.3 million pounds. The metal barrels can be seen from hundreds of feet away.

(2) _____

Everyone who looks at it will see something different. Many will think the barrels are barrels of oil in the heart of one of London's oldest parks. They might wonder if Christo was making an announcement against pollution . Others will see a prism or giant pixels or simply a shape. However, everyone must decide for themselves, the 83 - year - old artist said. Christo said he had nothing special in mind when he created The London Mastaba. "There are no messages, " Christo said. "There is something in it to discover yourself. I cannot direct you. "

"A Stairway To The Sky"

"It's created a giant invitation, like a stairway to the sky, " Christo said. The artist was standing on the banks of the Serpentine Lake in Hyde Park where his artwork floats. Swans are swimming nearby. Some barrels are red with a white candy stripe on the sides. Others are colored blue, purple and red. Their colors will look different as the light changes, Christo said. Their reflection (倒影) in the lake will be like an abstract painting. Abstraction is an artistic style that does not always show something recognizable or realistic.

"Not Really Sure How I Feel About It"

Many people walking in the park were surprised to see the artwork. "It's very modern, but this place is nature and historical. I don't like it here, " said Yasmin KocOzcengel, who is a tourist from Turkey. Another person who took a look at the artwork was Anna Andronova. She called The London Mastaba very brave. If it weren't as brave, it wouldn't be as amazing, she said. Sheila Seffenson is an American living in London. "I'm just not really sure how I feel about it, " Steffenson said. "Maybe it's a message about pollution. Who knows? "

34. (5 分) People have been using the wind energy for a long, long time. More than 5, 000 years ago, ancient Egyptians made boats powered by the wind. In 200 B. C., people used windmills (风车) in China.

Today, we collect the wind's energy with wind turbines (涡轮). A turbine is similar to a windmill; it is a very tall tower with two or three blades (叶片) at the top. These blades are turned by the wind. The blades turn a generator (发电机) located inside the tower, which creates power.

Groups of wind turbines are known as wind farms. Wind farms can be found near farmland, in narrow mountain passes, and even in the ocean, where there are stronger winds. Wind farms create power for nearby homes, schools and other buildings.

In places like the Midwest and along coasts, winds can provide cheap power. Another great advantage of wind power is that it is a clean form of energy. Wind turbines do not burn oil or coal and do not pollute the air.

Wind is not always an ideal source of energy, however. Wind speed changes from time to time, depending on the time of day, weather and location. Wind turbines can be also dangerous for bats and birds. These animals cannot always tell how fast the blades are moving and crash into them.

Title: (1) _____ Energy

NEW word in 2020

Coronavirus is this year's Children's Word of the Year. This is very interesting given that the 500 Words competition closed on 27 February 2020, the day before the first case was documented in the UK. This shows the influence of important events around the world on children's creativity.

Highlights

- The word coronavirus appeared for the first time in the 500 Words stories in 2020. It is not a word that has been used before.
- The word has been used 459 times in the stories in 2020, with 287 of them as coronavirus, 168 as corona virus, and 4 as corona - virus.
- It is amazing that many of the themes young writers explored in fiction soon became a reality with the world in lockdown.

18. (6 分) "Look at Amy's picture!" Mom said, too loud. She does that when she's excited, because she can't hear herself. Some kids turned to stare at us and I wanted to hide.

I led my family into my classroom and looked around. Other kids and parents were there, but I didn't see Evelyn.

Ms. Jennings walked over to us. I introduced her to my family and explained that my parents are deaf.

"Oh, " she said. "Well, how do you say 'Welcome!' in sign language? "

"Like this. " I swept my open right hand in toward my body, palm (掌心) up. She repeated the movement.

"Thank you, " Mom said, smiling. "It's nice to meet you. "

Ms. Jennings looked surprised. "You speak very well, " she said.

In sign language, I repeated what Ms. Jennings had said in case my parents hadn't read her lips (嘴唇).

Mom nodded. "I lost my hearing as a child, after I'd learned to talk. Amy's father was born deaf. He can talk, too, but he's shy about his voice. "

Dad smiled in agreement.

Some of my classmates were watching us and whispering. Then I noticed Evelyn and her mom standing by the door.

"I sit over there, " I told my family and quickly walked toward my desk.

"Hi, Amy, " Evelyn said suddenly.

I turned around. "Hi. "

"I didn't know your parents are deaf, " she said.

"Yeah. " I couldn't think of anything else to say.

"And you can talk to them with your hands? That's so cool. "

"You think so?" I asked. I exhaled with relief.

Evelyn nodded. "It's like a secret code. Would you teach me some words sometime?"

I smiled. "Of course."

"One of my dad's neighbours uses sign neighbours," she said. "Maybe I can surprise her with a greeting next time I visit my dad."

"Your dad doesn't live with you?" I said.

She shook her head. "My parents are separated."

"Oh, I..." I'd been so worried about my family that I hadn't thought about Evelyn's family. "Hey, if you come over tomorrow, we can practice some sign language then."

I got my parents' attention. "Mom, Dad," I said, signing, "I'd like you to meet my friend Evelyn and her mom."

(1) How is 'Welcome!' said in sign language? B

(2) When Amy exhaled with relief, she most probably felt C.

A. worried

B. proud

C. relaxed

D. nervous

(3) What can we infer from the passage about Amy? D

A. She learned sign language by herself.

B. She didn't want her parents to come.

C. She won't share Evelyn's family secret.

D. She won't be so shy about her family.

【答案】BCD

【分析】本文讲述了 Amy 的父母是聋的，她的朋友 Evelyn 很惊讶的问她是聋哑人时，她感到自卑，但是听到朋友说手语是一个很酷的语言，并想跟她学习，这让 Amy 终于放心了，并把自己的父母介绍给好朋友和她的妈妈认识。

【解答】(1) B. 细节理解题。根据 "Like this. " I swept my open right hand in toward my body, palm (掌心) up. 可知，"欢迎"的手语是：把张开的右手伸向身体，掌心朝上，结合所给四个选项的图片，B 选项符合。故选 B。

(2) C. 推理判断题。根据 "I didn't know your parents are deaf, " she said. "Yeah. " I couldn't think of anything else to say "And you can talk to them with your hands? That's so cool. "可知，当 Evelyn 知道 Amy 的父母是聋的时，她很惊讶的问 Amy，所以那时 Amy 不知道该说什么，但是当 Evelyn 又说她认为那种手语很酷时，Amy 就放松了很多。故选 C。

(3) D. 推理判断题。根据 I got my parents' attention. "Mom, Dad, " I said, signing, "I'd like you to meet my friend Evelyn and her mom. "可知，Amy 看到朋友没有因为她的父母是残疾人而看不起她，而是更加主动想去学习手语，从这可推断出，Amy 以后不会对于她的家庭而感到害羞。

19. (8分) Last month, the artist Christo opened his new art sculpture. It is made up of 7, 506 colorful barrels (桶) floating on a lake in Hyde Park in London. Christo calls it The London Mastaba. It is his first major outdoor art sculpture in Great Britain. The artwork is in the shape of a mastaba. It looks somewhat like a pyramid with a fat top. The London Mastaba is about 65 feet high, 98 feet wide and 130 feet long, and it weighs about 1.3 million pounds. The metal barrels can be seen from hundreds of feet away.

(2) _____

Everyone who looks at it will see something different. Many will think the barrels are barrels of oil in the heart of one of London's oldest parks. They might wonder if Christo was making an announcement against pollution. Others will see a prism or giant pixels or simply a shape. However, everyone must decide for themselves, the 83-year-old artist said. Christo said he had nothing special in mind when he created The London Mastaba. "There are no messages," Christo said. "There is something in it to discover yourself. I cannot direct you."

"A Stairway To The Sky"

"It's created a giant invitation, like a stairway to the sky," Christo said. The artist was standing on the banks of the Serpentine Lake in Hyde Park where his artwork floats. Swans are swimming nearby. Some barrels are red with a white candy stripe on the sides. Others are colored blue, purple and red. Their colors will look different as the light changes, Christo said. Their reflection (倒影) in the lake will be like an abstract painting. Abstraction is an artistic style that does not always show something recognizable or realistic.

"Not Really Sure How I Feel About It"

Many people walking in the park were surprised to see the artwork. "It's very modern, but this place is nature and historical. I don't like it here," said Yasmin KocOzcengel, who is a tourist from Turkey. Another person who took a look at the artwork was Anna Andronova. She called The London Mastaba very brave. If it weren't as brave, it wouldn't be as amazing, she said. Sheila Seffenson is an American living in London. "I'm just not really sure how I feel about it," Steffenson said. "Maybe it's a message about pollution. Who knows?"

(1) What can we learn about the artwork? D

- A. It is a floating pyramid.
- B. It is made up of empty oil barrels.
- C. It is an abstract painting.

D. It is considered as different things.

(2) Which of the following would be most suitable for ____? B

A. An Announcement Against Pollution.

B. An Announcement Against Pollution?

C. A New Landmark Of The Oldest Park.

D. A New Landmark Of The Oldest Park?

(3) Which of the following words can best describe The London Mastaba? D

A. Romantic.

B. Magical.

C. Realistic.

D. Mysterious.

(4) What can most possibly be the artist's real purpose? C

A. To add some more colours to the old park.

B. To bring his art career to a new height.

C. To encourage people to discover and think.

D. To remind people to care about nature.

34. (5 分) People have been using the wind energy for a long, long time. More than 5, 000 years ago, ancient Egyptians made boats powered by the wind. In 200 B. C., people used windmills (风车) in China.

Today, we collect the wind's energy with wind turbines (涡轮). A turbine is similar to a windmill; it is a very tall tower with two or three blades (叶片) at the top. These blades are turned by the wind. The blades turn a generator (发电机) located inside the tower, which creates power.

Groups of wind turbines are known as wind farms. Wind farms can be found near farmland, in narrow mountain passes, and even in the ocean, where there are stronger winds. Wind farms create power for nearby homes, schools and other buildings.

In places like the Midwest and along coasts, winds can provide cheap power. Another great advantage of wind power is that it is a clean form of energy. Wind turbines do not burn oil or coal and do not pollute the air.

Wind is not always an ideal source of energy, however. Wind speed changes from time to time, depending on the time of day, weather and location. Wind turbines can be also dangerous for bats and birds. These animals cannot always tell how fast the blades are moving and crash into them.

Title: (1) Wind Energy

Ancient times	People in Egypt made wind - powered boats (2) over 5, 000 years ago. People in China used windmills in 200 B. C.
Modern times	It is (3) collected with turbines, which are tall windmill - like towers with two or three blades at the top and a generator inside. The wind turns the blades and the blades turn the generator to create power.
Advantages	Winds produce power at a low (4) price in certain areas.

	Wind turbines do not cause air pollution .
Disadvantages	Wind speed does not remain at the same (5) location all the time. Wind turbines can be dangerous for animals like bats and birds.

【答案】(1) Wind (2) over (3) collected (4) price (5) location

【分析】这篇短文主要介绍风能的使用以及它的优缺点。

【解答】(1) Wind 考查名词，根据第一段 People have been using the wind's energy for a long, long time. 可知：人们利用风能已经有很长一段时间了。下文围绕这个话题介绍了古代埃及以及中国对风能的使用。第二段 Today, we collect the wind's energy with wind turbines. 以及第三段 Groups of wind turbines are known as wind farms. 介绍现代社会对风能的使用，第四段 In places like the Midwest and along coasts, winds can provide cheap power. Another great advantage of wind power is that it is a clean form of energy. Wind turbines do not burn oil or coal and do not pollute the air. 介绍风能的优势，最后一段 Wind turbines can be also dangerous for bats and birds. These animals cannot always tell how fast the blades are moving and crash into them. 介绍风能的缺点。由此可知这篇文章的标题应该为“风能”，原词再现，故填：Wind. (2) over. 考查介词，根据第一段 More than 5, 000 years ago, ancient Egyptians made boats powered by the wind. 可知：5000 多年前，古埃及人制造了风力驱动的船只。more than = over 超过，故填：over. (3) collected. 考查动词，根据第二段 Today, we collect the wind's energy with wind turbines. 可知：今天，我们用风力涡轮机收集风能。题目中 it 指代 Wind's energy, 动作的承受者充当主语，谓语动词要用被动形式，一般现在时的被动语态为 am/is/are+过去分词，故填：collected. (4) price. 考查名词，根据第四段 In places like the Midwest and along coasts, winds can provide cheap power. 可知：在中西部和沿海地区，风能可以提供廉价的电力。句子中用“cheap”便宜的，形容词，题目中用了词组 at a low... 来表示价格低，考查固定词组 at a low price, 故填：price. (5) location. 根据最后一段 Wind speed changes from time to time, depending on the time of day, weather and location. 可知: 风速随着时间、天气和地理位置的变化而变化. 故填: location.
